Aldine Independent School District, 12th Grade Classroom Resources and Advisory Guide

"If even one person in a school knows him well enough to care, a student's chances of success go up dramatically. In small groups that can focus on a range of subjects, teachers and students are forming new bonds and setting new standards for a more personal education." (Horace, September 1990).

High school advisory programs and social and emotional learning in the classroom allow students to discuss and address certain issues that are unique to a high school student's life. As the advisory or discussion leader, your role is to listen and respond to students, asking open rather than closed questions and working to create an engaging climate of trust, sharing, participation and self-reflection among your students.

Connect with Kids video resources, along with discussion questions and activities, provide the platform. Business experts call it "see-feel-change," fueling action by sparking emotion. Connect with Kids calls it educating the heart: using the power of storytelling and peer-to-peer connections to create heart-felt associations. Research shows that children and adults who emotionally connect with an experience are more likely to make life-long behavioral change than those who just receive information about that experience. Students realize that they are not alone in their feelings and challenges, sometimes referred to as "strength in numbers."

This is a suggested guide for high school classroom and advisory session video and print resources, all of which stream on Connect with Kids WebSource websites. Contact Connect with Kids client support at 1-888-598-KIDS (5437) or email info@cwknetwork.com with any questions regarding resources or implementation.
